MONSTER TRUCKS INVADE VERMONT
2003 World Champion to Appear

New Haven, Vt. – Six of the world's most famous monster trucks are set for two nights of car crushing action at the New England Monster Truck Show Down, June 25 and 26 at the Addison County Fair & Field Days in New Haven, Vt.

Headlining the field of monster trucks is the 2003 USHRA freestyle world champion Avenger. Other trucks include Brutus, Lone Eagle, Predator, Prowler, and Towasaurus Wrex.

The monster trucks will compete in side-by-side racing and freestyle contests both nights. Trucks will qualify for placement in a bracket and race over stacks of junk cars until a winner is declared. In freestyle, each driver will be given an allotted time on the course to perform high jumps, long jumps, wheelies and donuts to delight the crowd. A winner will be declared by a panel of judges.

Pit party admission is free with Saturday night event ticket. Additionally, autograph sessions will follow the show both nights.
